Hi, I'm Rafael Soufer an Uruguayan designer with web and graphic design studies, besides, I have some self-taught front-end development skills as well.

I'm currently working as a Project and Operational manager at TCS on a Web creation project.

What is more, previously working as a web designer/developer at Publicis Impetu, has given me the opportunity to work with, very important clients such as Movistar, Nestlé, L'Oréal and many more.

That being said, I have not only accomplished my duties as a designer, but I also have experience in project management.

Also, I never miss the opportunity for a good adventure and new challenges!
